“ Tribute to Carmen & Kris

Today, I want to honor my dear friend Carmen — a woman whose strength, courage, and compassion touched more lives than she ever realized. Carmen walked through some of the darkest valleys a person can face, yet she rose from them with a heart full of purpose. She turned her life around in a way that inspired everyone who knew her. Instead of hiding her past, she used it to lift others up. She helped countless people who were struggling just as she once did, offering them hope, understanding, and a reminder that change is possible. Her impact is immeasurable, and her spirit will live on in every life she touched. Bless her beautiful heart.

I also want to honor her incredible mother, Kris. She is a woman of extraordinary strength, having endured more loss than any mother should ever have to face. After losing her son to addiction just a short time ago, she still found the courage to keep going, to keep loving, and to keep supporting others. And now, she faces the unimaginable again. My heart breaks for her. Kris, you are an amazing woman — resilient, compassionate, and full of grace. The way you've held your family together through so much pain is truly remarkable.

*To Carmen, thank you for the light you brought into this world.
To Kris, thank you for your strength and your love.
God bless you both. ❤️❤️ Dianne*

“ I remember so clearly watching Carmen, Kris, and Kristina grow in recovery together. Only God knows why that beautiful dynamic imprinted on my heart the way it did—and all three of you knew it.

At Embrace Recovery Campout, I shared that with Carmen. She said something along the lines of having her family in recovery was all she ever wanted. No matter what, those innermost desires of her heart shaped her into the woman she was—loving, caring, and passionate.

That's how I will always remember her: in the days she was free and full of life.
