“ I love you, Dad. I'll never forget how you would let me steer the truck as you stuck your head out the window doing the Tarzan jungle yell as loud as you could and pounded on your chest.

At least now, Emily can finally meet her Grandpa. Please give my baby girl kisses for me. I love you. Rest easy dad, until we meet again ❤️

Chris and family, I'm so sorry for your loss and I know you're heartbroken. He was such a kind and good good man. I'm grateful for our friendship since we were young kids. You loved your family so much and I/we loved to hear your stories and adventures with them. Orv managed to beat you to Heaven and I know he welcomed you with a big smile on his face. Rest in peace my friend. May God Bless you and your family. Kathy Carey Ochs

“ I can't believe you are gone! Love you man! We will always have our love of Austin Powers movies. I always called Chris number 2, I was Dr. Evil to him (from Austin Powers). Chris was my very best friend when Connie and I lived in Wenatchee. We had very good times working together and doing a lot of fun things on the weekend, I will miss him dearly. Deb thank for taking good care of my best friend. I am praying for you.
