“Heather was the greatest friend anybody could ever ask for! She was my best friend and the closest thing that I had to a sister in my life. Her family was my family my family was hers and we spent everyday together when we were young. We spend the holidays together with each other's families every year, I attended all of her soccer games and was her own personal cheerleader, rode horses, chased boys, got into mischief as all teenagers do. She taught me first hand what friendship is and how to truly love others. She had a great love for animals always had many cats dogs goats horses and anything else that came her way she always opened the door for. She had the biggest heart of anybody I've ever met definitely a heart of gold! We even got matching tattoos for her 18th birthday. She never gave herself enough credit for the impact that she made on others and was always a joy to be around. She always claimed to look up to me as a role model and always made me strive to succeed and be better everyday! I always admired her true beauty on the inside as well as the out and will forever remember all the great times and learning experiences and life lessons and definitely a lot of knowledge gained with us to as a pair of giggling girls! Even when we were many miles apart sometimes even countries we always stayed in touch and we're a part of each others lives! Her parents were my second parents as mine were hersalso and not a day goes by that I don't think of her and miss her dearly! I hurt without her and feel empty inside without her here and don't know if that will ever go away until I get to see her again. She is truly missed and definitely made this world a better place. I pray that I can be even half of the woman that she was. I will forever continue being part of her family and telling her boys wonderful stories about their mother who they both love with all their heart! She is forever in my heart forever and always my very best friend and sister”

“ Heather our paths have not crossed. I know of you thru the one's who love you. I know you will be here on earth watching your loved ones. You'll be the laughter and love in your boys eyes. You'll be the smile on your family's face as they share memories. You'll be the hug in everyone's arms. You'll be with all just in a different way. You'll be the angel watching over all. “ Heather, my BFF. Oh, my dear friend. Where do I ever begin?! We have shared so many special memories together. Everytime we were together memorable things happened. That was the magical gift you had. Being memorable. The hopping , skipping ,running, jumping, horseback riding, or just laying in the grass talking, and rolling with laughter at our silly selfs'. Oh,! yes, the laughter, driving our parents crazy and letting them not get any sleep cuz' of all the laughter. I'll just bet they can still here us laughing. We could talk and laugh forever and never run out of things to say. Oh! and remember the time when I first got my drivers license and I came and picked you up and we almost hit the curb cuz' we were hanging out the windows laughing and waving at our friends?! That day was so much fun. So many stories and I'll remember them all. Fun and exciting... that's us in a nutshell. Even when we had our cries together it was a prcious memory. I could always count on you to always be there for me. I couldn't have asked for a better friend. Heather, we love each other unconditionally and that's a very rare gift that we will always share. You will always be my BFF from now and beyond and we will talk and laugh in our dreams. I will cherish our friendship aways and forever. Gerilyn Kaye

“ Heather, where do I even start?? Im going to miss your smiling face and contagious laugh.. ive known you since elementary school and remember you always being so happy and carefree. You were hilarious and had the funniest sense of humor. Junior high is what I will always remember the most because we both gave a "certain" teacher a run for his money. Lol! I remember my mom getting called down to the school and maybe yours did too?? Anyway we were quite the duo in that class that year. I hope you know how much we all miss you and wish you were still here... I know you are looking down from heaven and smiling, and pray you are finally at peace... love you Heather!!! Love always.... ~Katie Sipe~ ♥♥♥
