

Terry Jean Espino

September 10, 1954 - March 25, 2013

Terry J. (Brown) Espino, 58, of East Wenatchee, died Monday, March 25, 2013.

She was a longtime resident of the Wenatchee Valley and had taught school in Manson. She was also a driver's license examiner in Wenatchee for 12 years and, along with her husband, had owned and operated Espino Yard Service.

Survivors include her husband, Hector Espino of East Wenatchee; her mother, Danice Brown of East Wenatchee; and her sisters, Sherrie Branam of Curlew and Shelene Brown of Cashmere.

A memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at Wenatchee First Assembly of God, 1520 McKittrick St. in Wenatchee.

Arrangements are by Telford's Chapel of the Valley, East Wenatchee.

Tribute Wall

LR

“ Terry is someone who will FOREVER be remembered in my heart. She was sent to me as an angel from heaven to help with my sisters house. At that time I was living in CA, and my sister was diagnosed with a terminal brain cancer, and was living as a hoarder. Her house was as bad as any I have seen on TV, and the smell horrific. Terry helped me put together a group of workers to clean out her house, in hopes that we could one day bring my sister home. Terry was able to go in to the house and instruct the workers what to be done (they were wearing masks) because Terry had no sense of smell. Overall this period of my life was overwhelming, but God sent angels to help, and Terry was one of them. I am so deeply sorry for your loss. Praise God we have the comfort of knowing that we will see her again one day.

Laura Ruane - April 18, 2013 at 03:04 PM

DH

“ what a great service today for a tremendous friend. What an example she set- her marriage to Hector that was filled with love and humor as well as committment, her gift of serving- being invited into her home for food and fellowship- don't know how she managed those new years celebrations with so many people and so little stress she showed. She loved to reach out and also saw the best in others. I have no question where she will spend eternity and look forward to seeing her again someday.

Dennis Hendricks - March 29, 2013 at 05:39 PM