

Yannick Chauncey Periou

April 4, 1988 - August 31, 2014

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

HO

“ From the moment I met Yannick I fell in love. I believe in love at first sight because of him. Getting to know him through the years I fell more and more in love with him. Sometimes we would go years between seeing each other but every reunion was filled with comfortable affection. Yannick had a sense of humor that would leave me in pain from laughter. His chuckle and smile lit up a room. His intellect and craving to learn made him captivating. I LOVED him. One of my best memories of him was a cold night in February. We met at the Dixie Rock and sat in his car all night, snuggling laughing, telling stories, chatting about life, really just adoring each other's company. I never wanted to leave that moment in time. That night was one of the best nights in my life. I loved spending time with him and will always remember him as my first love. Someone who can never be replaced.

Holly - October 09, 2014 at 07:44 PM

HO

“ From the moment I met Yannick I fell in love. I believe in love at first sight because of him. Getting to know him through the years I fell more and more in love with him. Sometimes we would go years between seeing each other but every reunion was filled with comfortable affection. Yannick had a sense of humor that would leave me in pain from laughter. His chuckle and smile lit up a room. His intellect and craving to learn made him captivating. I LOVED him. One of my best memories of him was a cold night in February. We met at the Dixie Rock and sat in his car all night, snuggling laughing, telling stories, chatting about life, really just adoring each other's company. I never wanted to leave that moment in time. That night was one of the best nights in my life. I loved spending time with him and will always remember him as my first love. Someone who can never be replaced.

Holly - October 09, 2014 at 07:42 PM